

Because the public airwaves belong to everyone, those authorized to use them should reflect the perspectives of all stakeholders (aka citizens). They should be used as a forum of public discussion/ debate, news, and entertainment. Yes, and even advertising. But they should not be used to promote the political views of those who manage them.